

Executive Advisory Board Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act Exemption Form

The author must complete this page before submitting the paper to the Business Support Office.

Publication

To demonstrate openness and transparency, all governance group papers will now be published on the website of Social Security Scotland. All governance group papers should be written in line with the Writing for Publication Guidance.

Papers which contain sensitive information which should not be published must set out the reasons why. The author must identify the relevant exemption which should apply. The exemption should be stated in the section below, with the reasoning for this decision. Please speak to the Data Protection and Information Governance team before submitting your paper if you are unsure which exemption may apply.

1. I am aware that this paper may be published in the public domain and I am content for the information to be published.
2. I believe information in this paper should be withheld from publication and that an exemption applies.

2.1. Please state the exemption and explain your reasoning:

This paper provided a candid overview of Social Security Scotland's cyber resilience capability to the Executive Advisory Body. It covered our strengths but also the areas in which we need to improve our defences. If such valuable information was available in the public domain, it could be leveraged by an attacker planning to launch a cyber attack against the Agency. Such an exemption may fall under a section 36 exemption as publishing this information could ultimately impact the security and availability of our systems and data.

Paper Summary for Website Publication (max 100 words)

This paper on Social Security Scotland's cyber resilience capability was presented to the Executive Advisory Body on 13 June 2023.
